Youngme.

Many thanks. This looks like a good document to engage faculty in discussion.

My plan is to come back to Boston this weekend. So I will hopefully be available to join you in the sessions. Can you ask your assistant to let Liz know the times so that she can put them on my calendar.

See you soon.

My sense is that we can always scale it back and opt for a more conservative approach if I encounter pushback in the small group discussions.
